We orchestrate
the discourse on higher education in the digital age

Hochschulforum Digitalisierung is a think tank that orchestrates the discourse on higher education in the digital age.

The digital age fundamentally changes higher education. We see digitalisation as a comprehensive transformation process that we can shape together. In order to harness the full potential of digitalisation, everyone involved is called upon to do their part.

We provide the necessary framework: As an innovation driver, we inform, advise and connect stakeholders from higher education institutions, politics, business and civil society.

We inform

- We publish studies and white papers on current issues in German higher education in the digital age.
- Expert working groups, formed for one year, explore concrete questions. Their findings are made available to the public through studies and guidelines.
- We keep you updated with blog articles, newsletters and podcasts wherever you go.

We advise

- In our peer-to-peer consulting, we provide individual support to universities wanting to strategically address the digital turn in their institutions.
- In our HFDlead program, seasoned experts mentor university administrations.

We connect

- HDF's network for higher education connects lecturers, university staff and students with one another and offers them a platform for discussing all things related to digitally supported teaching.
- Our conferences provide an opportunity for university lecturers, administrations and rectors to meet.
- The digital changemakers (#DigitalChangemaker): We encourage students to get involved.
- Lecturers can get training in regular online hangouts and at our annual summer school.

We innovate

- Innovative approaches in higher education are awarded with our HFDcert, the HDF community certificate.
- Best practice examples of digitally supported teaching in Germany can be found on our Digital Learning Map.

The HDF community with over 1000 visionaries of higher education in the digital age are the heart of our work. Become a member of the community, get inspired and help us shape the future.
